Art Unit: 1632

Claims 1, 7, 9, 10, 12, and 16 have been amended, claim 2 has been canceled, and claims 17-45 have been added by the amendment filed June 12, 2003.

Claims 1, 3-45, drawn to the elected species are pending for examination.

The nonstatutory double patenting rejection is based on a judicially created doctrine grounded in public policy (a policy reflected in the statute) so as to prevent the unjustified or improper timewise extension of the "right to exclude" granted by a patent and to prevent possible harassment by multiple assignees. See In re Goodman, 11 F.3d 1046, 29 USPQ2d 2010 (Fed. Cir. 1993); In re Longi, 759 F.2d 887, 225 USPQ 645 (Fed. Cir. 1985); In re Van Ornum, 686 F.2d 937, 214 USPQ 761 (CCPA 1982); In re Vogel, 422 F.2d 438, 164 USPQ 619 (CCPA 1970); and, In re Thorington, 418 F.2d 528, 163 USPQ 644 (CCPA 1969).

A timely filed terminal disclaimer in compliance with 37 CFR 1.321(c) may be used to overcome an actual or provisional rejection based on a nonstatutory double patenting ground provided the conflicting application or patent is shown to be commonly owned with this application. See 37 CFR 1.130(b).

Effective January 1, 1994, a registered attorney or agent of record may sign a terminal disclaimer. A terminal disclaimer signed by the assignee must fully comply with 37 CFR 3.73(b).

Claims 1, 3-45 are rejected under the judicially created doctrine of obviousness-type double patenting as being unpatentable over claims 1-10 of U.S. Patent No. 6,271,207. Although the conflicting claims are not identical, they are not patentably distinct from each other because both set of claims encompass the subject matter drawn to:

A method for enhancing the expression of a transgene in a target neoplastic cell comprising:

- (a) administering a DNA-damaging agent to a subject containing a target neoplastic cell;
- and
- (b) transferring said transgene into said target neoplastic cell between 2-4 days after said administering step.

Thus, the examined claims the claims of the US patent are obvious variants of one another.

While the claims of the issued patent do not claim a method of enhancing gene expression in a target neoplastic cell in vitro or in vivo, such methods would have been obvious variants of the invention as claimed in the issued patent. Given the fact that the method as claimed in the issued patent teaches and claims that an enhanced gene expression can be generated by employing the materials and time as specified in the claims, one would have been motivated to employ the same steps and materials to any dividing cell in any medium receptive to the growth of the cells, particularly since such method steps are claimed in the issued patent as to enhance gene expression in target dividing and neoplastic cells.

It is noted that applicant will file a terminal disclaimer to obviate the rejection. However, the rejection is maintained until a proper terminal disclaimer is submitted.

The specification is objected because the first paragraph regarding the continuing data in reference to 35 USC 120 and 119(e) is missing from the as-filed specification. Note that the parent application 09/175,056 has been issued as US Pat 6,271,207.

No claims are allowed.

Applicant's amendment necessitated the new ground(s) of rejection presented in this Office action. Accordingly, THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. See MPEP § 706.07(a). Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the date of this final action.
